INTRODUCTION

This compilation has been prepared to record and make available the information about our historic and cultural heritage as inscribed on the grave markers of those who have preceded us and as found in the military and private cemeteries within the reservation boundary of Aberdeen Proving Ground, Maryland.

This compilation is the culmination of field surveys conducted in the Spring and Summer of 1999, and includes a complete photographic collection, transcription, and catalogue of the text as recorded on either side of each of the grave markers in both the military and private cemeteries of Aberdeen Proving Ground. Additionally, this compilation includes a complete proper name index.

LOCATION

Aberdeen Proving Ground is located in northeastern Maryland, situated on the western shore of the Chesapeake Bay near it's juncture with the Susquehanna River. The Proving Ground is somewhat divided in the middle by the Bush River, with the Edgewood Area (EA) on the western side of the Bush River, and Aberdeen Area (AA) identified as all of the remainder of the Installation. Lacking any other designation, the presumption is that any reference made refers to the Aberdeen Area, rather than the Edgewood Area.

Spesutie Island, now linked to the Aberdeen Area by a causeway, is considered to be in the Aberdeen Area. Poole's Island, in the Chesapeake Bay and forming the eastern most corner of the post boundary, is likewise considered to be in the Aberdeen Area.

ABERDEEN PROVING GROUND MARYLAND

Aberdeen Proving Ground, like any large community, has a substantial population, and contains the amenities for comfortable living. That part of Aberdeen Proving Ground in which these amenities are to be found is called OPEN POST.

As the term implies, while this is government property, the OPEN POST area is usually accessible to the general public at will.

The mission at Aberdeen Proving Ground could be stated as the development, testing, and evaluation of systems important to the defense of our country. For various reasons, not the least of which is personal safety, a significant portion of Aberdeen Proving Ground has DENIED ACCESS to most people.

As the term implies, the DENIED ACCESS area is usually not accessible to the general public.

The location of each cemetery on Aberdeen Proving Ground has been identified in several different systems. These include:

- ◆ Geographic, with location by Latitude and Longitude,
- ◆ Universal Transverse Mercator (UTM), with location by Easting and Northing,
- ◆ MD State Plane Coordinate System (NAD 83) with values of Easting and Northing as determined from satellite (GPS), and
- ◆ MD State Plane Coordinate System (NAD 27) with values of Easting and Northing.

The NAD 27 location system is included on all Maryland State Highway maps and most commercial street maps and guides presently published. However, it is to be expected that the NAD 83 system will be implemented in the near future. A quick way to determine which system is being used is by comparing the Easting values, which have values about $\frac{1}{2}$ million feet higher in the NAD 83 system than the values in the NAD 27 system.

Additionally, current highway (road sign) directions are presented, referencing present-day MD State Highway and Aberdeen Proving Ground route numbers and names.

Aberdeen Proving Ground cemetery identifications, Real Estate Department building designations, acreage, and location data have been provided by the Cultural Resource Program, except that the Poole's Island location and all highway directions were prepared by the Author.

ABERDEEN PROVING GROUND MARYLAND VALIDATION

All of the grave markers catalogued in both the private and the military cemeteries have been matched against several previous listings of internments, and any transcriptions included therewith, if available, and discrepancies have been checked and verified. Grave markers that have been previously reported at a cemetery, but are now missing, have been tabulated in a set of Notes at the end of that particular cemetery listing.

Other sources of cemetery contents that have been compared for this compilation include the following:

ABERDEEN PROVING GROUND MARYLAND

THE CEMETERIES

The lands which comprise Aberdeen Proving Ground lie in the Coastal Plain, and the easy terrain and access to navigable waterways probably led to the early settlement of this area.

The private (P) cemeteries, associated with local churches and chapels or family burying grounds, may have begun as early as the late 1600's and ceased about 1917, as the privately held properties, mostly farms, were purchased by the government.

About 1917, shortly after the establishment of Edgewood Arsenal and Fort Hoyle, which itself was merged into Edgewood Arsenal, and Aberdeen Proving Ground, and since 1971 collectively known as Aberdeen Proving Ground, the military (M) cemeteries were begun.

Each cemetery has been photographed and transcribed in it's entirety, and the compilation includes an ordered listing of all grave markers found in the cemetery, with a transcription of all of the writing found on each grave marker.

An arbitrary grid system was established to assist in defining locations in each cemetery. Generally, row 1 is either that line of stones (grave markers) nearest the entrance or the closest row when facing the stones with the text legible. Markers that are generally aligned, whether headstone, footstone, or unidentified as to either, are considered to be in the same row. Marker positions are generally relative to each other, and corresponding marker positions in different rows are generally aligned, one behind the other. In the compilation that follows, the grave marker locations are indicated as first by row, and then by relative position within that row, within the context of the arbitrary grid system.

In the military cemeteries only, a substantial number of grave markers have an identifying number inscribed on the reverse of the stone. These numbers have been recorded, and appear on the photographs, handwritten on a card that is placed to the side of the marker. Grave markers without an identifying number on the reverse are indicated with a horizontal bar on the card visible in the photograph.

OTHER CEMETERIES

In addition to the cemeteries included in this compilation, there are other cemeteries whose existence was reported elsewhere, but whose location cannot be determined. The disposition of any internments, and any accompanying grave markers, is for the most part unknown.

Brankowitz reports the following cemeteries as being in existence in 1940:

Reported Vicinity	Family	Present Location
1. Lauderick's Creek	Hardy	Unknown
2. Old Gravel Pit	Hardy	Unknown
3. C.M.T.C. Camp	Doves	Unknown
4. Veterinary Stables	Thompson	Unknown
5. Dugout on M Field	Peter & Rachel Ghent	Unknown
6. Bell Farm	Owens	Unknown
7. Spring near Gun Club	Hanna & Nelson Gilbert	P-3-EA
8. Field East of Ft. Hoyle Commissary	Morgan	Unknown

Raphel Family

Brankowitz also reports that "the Raphel Family performed disinterments and moved family members ... to St. Stephens Church, Bradshaw, Maryland". The Raphel family members referred to by Brankowitz are not included in this compilation.

Gunpowder Meeting House

Brankowitz also reports the existence of a cemetery "behind" the Gunpowder Meeting House (circa 1773), now identified as Building E-5175 in the Edgewood Area. There is no evidence, at present, of either grave markers or a cemetery at this location.

Spesutie Island

Oral history indicates the existence of a private cemetery on Spesutie Island, in the vicinity of the Morgans Manor House, which was demolished about 1975. The house was located immediately east of the causeway connecting Spesutie Island with the mainland, and south of the access road across the causeway. Although a pylon shaped stone cairn is to be found in this immediate area, the cairn has no identification as to it's purpose and there is no evidence, at present, of either grave markers or a cemetery at this location.

Sappington Family

Spesutie Island was, at one time, apparently the home of several members of the Sappington Family. A memorial marker has been erected at St. Stephens Episcopal Church Cemetery, MD Rte. 213 and MD Rte. 282 in Cecilton, Cecil County, Maryland with the following inscription:

16951995

In Memory of Nathaniel Sappington
- 1713

and his wife

Mary

Dedicated by the "Sappington's of America"
on the 300th Anniversary of the Recording of his presence in Maryland

Children of

Nathaniel & Mary

Nathaniel m Margaret Hartley

James m

Thomas m Mary Rutland

John m Sarah Sherbert

There is no evidence, at present, of any Sappington Family grave markers on Spesutie Island.

Weide Army Airfield

Brankowitz reports that a cemetery existed at the location on which the present day airport, known as Weide Army Airfield, in the Edgewood Area, was constructed (circa 1941). "The burial grounds located on the site of the ... runway ... were not removed. However, the tombstones in this area were coated with paraffin and were turned face downward on the graves." The location of this cemetery has not been determined.

Livezey (1st Dist.) identifies the cemetery at Weide Field as the Dove Cemetery, and reports the following inscriptions:

- 1 Thomas W. Dove, age 14 years, died
 January 5, 1858
- 2 Rebecca Tucker, age 70 years, died 1839
- 3 T. P. Waltham died 1810
- 4 Thomas Waltham, age 47 years, died
 March 11, 1845

ABERDEEN PROVING GROUND MARYLAND

- 5 Marmaduke Paul Dove, age 44 years,
died September 2nd, 1866
- 6 William G. Dove, age 51 years,
died May 10, 1835
- 7 Martha G. Dove, age 68 years,
died February 25th, 1864
- 8 Elizabeth Tucker, age 37 years,
died March 17, 1816
- 9 Elizabeth Jones, age 62 years,
died July 22, 1814

Dorsey Grave

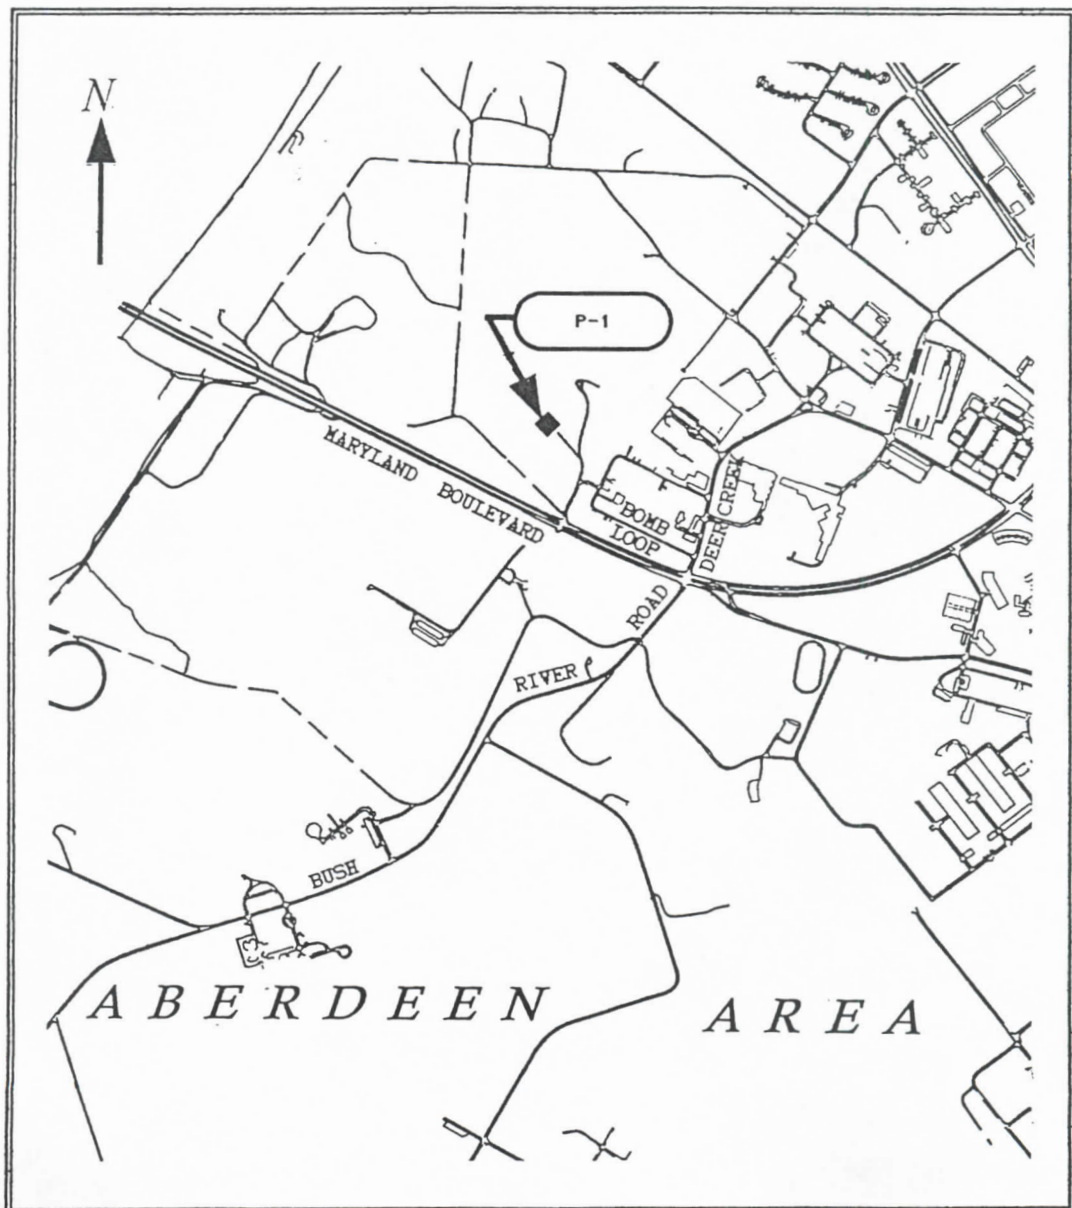

Livezey (1st Dist.) reports that this stone is located on the west side of the road from Maxwell Point Road to "M" Field in the Edgewood Area, and was exposed during clearing of the site by CCC forces in August 1936. He reports the following inscription:

In memory of Ann Dorsey who departed
this life on the 8th June 1802 aged 46

Her wish is accomplished at last
And now she's entomb'd with the dead
No sickness or sorrow, or pain
Shall ever disquiet her now
For death to her spirit was gain,
Since Christ was her life when below
Her soul has now taken its flight
To mansions of glory above,
To mingle with angels of light
And dwell in the Kingdom of Love.
Then let us forebear to complain
That she is now gone from our sight
We soon shall behold her again
